

HIS 3630 FINAL EXAM: ESSAY (AI version)

“How are digital tools reshaping the teaching of history?”

Your objective is to offer a final statement on how digital tools are reshaping the teaching and learning of history by carefully selecting:

- ❖ relevant readings from this semester
- ❖ sources from the research you conducted for the two projects this spring (Digital Tool Product(s) with Lesson/Presentation Plan and the Omeka “Archiving the Past” project)

Goal(s) of the final exam paper:

1. Explain how digital tools are re-shaping the teaching and learning of history
2. Share how you plan on implementing strategies you learned this semester as a historian and educator (presenter).
3. Select relevant course readings to support your arguments and illustrate your future plans or approach to teaching history.

Requirements: ✓ X

- o Choose Length: 850-1,000 words (approx. 2 to 3 pages double-spaced)
- o Choose A Copy of the Essay run through Claude.Ai (save as PDF)
- o Choose Comparison Analysis: 300-400 words (approx. 1-1.5 pages)
- o Choose Format: 1” all around, Times New Roman 12 font.
- o Choose Sources-documentation: footnotes or endnotes (your choice). Chicago Style for footnotes/endnotes is required (see below).

A STRONG FINAL EXAM PAPER WILL POSSESS THE FOLLOWING:

1. Choose Clear response to the essay prompt
2. Choose Clear thesis/main argument in the opening paragraph (or at least early on)
3. Choose Strong selection of sources — from the course readings and your research this semester — that are clearly applicable to the essay prompt and support your arguments in the FE essay
4. Choose References to your two major projects this semester that are clearly applicable to the essay prompt and support your arguments in the FE essay
 - a. Choose Citations (footnotes or endnotes) accurately follow Chicago Style
5. A body of the paper that ...
 - a. Choose is well-written (no typos, not messy, no run-on sentences)
 - b. Choose is well-organized (clear topics), clear paragraph structure
 - c. Choose makes smart use of supporting evidence (cited)
 - ❖ your voice is clearly present; something worthwhile to say
 - ❖ you did not over-quote or reference others’ works without citations
6. Choose A conclusion paragraph with a succinct summary and final point
7. Choose [A.I. element] Run the FE prompt above through Claude.ai (submit AI version as PDF). Then, submit a Comparison Analysis essay that speaks to the strengths and weaknesses of A.I. to improve research-based, critical analysis, reflective papers.

DEADLINE

- Choose Submitted by May 8, 2025 - 10:30 am.

NAME:

GRADE: of 10 pts.

COMMENTS: